Commissioners of all the MCD Zones, NDMC, Delhi Cantonment Board and the DCPs of all the Police Districts together with District Election Officers of all the nine Districts to ensure their full co-operation and involvement in strictly enforcing Model Code of Conduct. This proved to be very useful and implementation of Model Code of Conduct in Delhi came for praise from all the corners.

The Local Bodies, Delhi Police and the Offices of District Election Officers were responsible for the enforcement of Model Code of Conduct in respect of defacement of property. As per information received from these agencies, 16808 hoardings, 9369 banners, 20215 posters and 889 wall writings were removed. 964 FIRs were lodged against the defaulters.

19. WAYS TO ENCOURAGE THE YOUNG VOTERS : The office of the CEO, Delhi was employing innovative ways to encourage the young people to come out to vote on the day of Poll. To catch the fancy of young boys and girls and to stop the diminishing voter's turnout during election, the CEO's office had devised a strategy to reach them through Radio FM, TV commercials and print media. Apart from that the strategy includes use of movie slides or TVC in cinema halls during intermission and installing hoardings at the strategic locations across Delhi.

This strategy or campaign was aimed at creating voter awareness among young lot to motivate them to vote. It was observed that the voters of age group 18-29 years had different priorities in their lives. Voting and being involved in the process of formation of governance is not amongst their top priorities. The campaign aims at making the young adults aware of their responsibilities towards voting. The increase in the polling percentage by such electors was also envisaged.

The Election Department has a mandate to register all the eligible electors, facilitate citizens to take part in electoral process as well as educate the voters about their rights and duties in this regard. The sharply declining voter turn out over last few assembly elections was a matter of grave concern. It was decided to launch a media campaign that would motivate people to come out of the cozy comfort of their house on the election day to cast their votes. Any media campaign has two basic objectives i.e. To attract the eyeballs and ears of the audience. Sell the idea or convince the people of the intended message. It was also felt that people do not vote because nothing happens to them, nothing moves them. In general, they were apathetic towards voting. Even who vote do not get any direct reward neither they get any identity. Thus was born "Pappu"an Identity.....an identity to which the voting and non-voting people can relate themselvesso as to make voting fashionable.....

This led to the idea of using the character "Pappu" as the central theme of the multiple mode campaign.

Pappu is a character having everything in life, he has the best of everything. All the virtues, either professional or personal can be attributed to him.

Because he does not vote, his friends call him a Pappu, they make fun of him - because he doesn't vote, he is not cool, he is not in fashion."

The campaign's catch phrase promotes the indelible ink mark the voters get after voting as "Delhi's new fashion statement".

Thus, the campaign promoted the concept that if you don't vote you are a "Pappu".

20. VOTER ASSISTANCE BOOTHS : Voter Assistance Booths were set up at all the polling premises. At these booths the Electoral Roll in alphabetic order was provided to the staff who issued voter slip to the electors. Main aim of such booth was to facilitate the voters in finding his/her serial number and part number in the electoral roll and then issuing Voter slip Verification of electors for the purpose of voting was done by the polling staff only.

21. COUNTING CENTRES/ ARRANGEMENTS : The counting of votes for the Legislative Assembly Election-2008 took place on 08.12.2008 from 08.00A.M. onwards in respect of 69 Assembly Constituencies whereas the Counting for 39-Rajinder Nagar Assembly Constituency took place on 15.12.2008. For counting of votes of 70 Assembly Constituencies, 13 counting centres were set up. The Returning Officers had issued Passes to the counting agents appointed by the contesting candidates to oversee the process of counting. Media centres were set up at each counting centre and also at the Office of the CEO. These centres were provided with facilities like telephone, fax, etc. Arrangements had been made to provide the intermittent counting results at the earliest possible.

On the day of counting, three tier cordoning system was in place in all counting centres to prevent the entry of unauthorized persons inside the counting centres. No counting agent without proper identity card having the photograph duly displayed on its person was allowed to cross the first cordon of the counting centre. Similarly, the identity of all candidates, their election agents as well as all the counting staff were also verified thoroughly. Delhi Police had 13 Coys of CPMF as Reserve Police personnel for the Reception-cum-Counting Centres.
